NNPCF Response to £200 Million Investment in SEND Training

The National Network of Parent Carer Forums (NNPCF) welcomes the Government's announcement of a £200 million investment to support SEND training for staff working across early years settings, schools and colleges. This commitment recognises the importance of equipping the wider workforce with the knowledge and confidence to support children and young people with SEND.

Parent carers often tell us how much difference skilled, informed and understanding staff can make to their child's experience of education. Investment in training has the potential to support more consistent approaches, improve confidence among practitioners, and strengthen inclusive practice across settings.

To maximise the impact of this funding, it will be important that training is high-quality, practical and supported over time. Education settings also need the capacity and wider support to embed learning into everyday practice, alongside access to specialist expertise where needed.

NNPCF believes that the involvement of parent carers and those with lived experience of SEND will be key to shaping effective training. Co-production and meaningful engagement can help ensure that learning reflects the realities of children's lives and leads to positive outcomes.

This announcement is a welcome step forward. NNPCF looks forward to continuing to work constructively with the Department for Education and partners to support improvements that make a real difference for children and young people with SEND and their families

We will keep you updated as to progress and updates. .

Events & Training Attendance

We have had a few events over the last couple of months where parents have booked a place to attend a workshop or training but then on the day not turned up without cancelling their place or letting the forum know. We appreciate that sometimes things come up last minute or children are poorly which means you cannot attend but we still need to know

A lot of training and workshops we put on for parents and carers is expensive which is why sometimes we charge a small fee for the training and lunch. If you are booked on a workshop or training event in the future and cannot make it please email the page at our info email address or message the SEND Family Voice page on messenger via Facebook.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

Your Voice

We are keen to hear your views and opinions about the SEND services in Redcar and Cleveland. Please take a moment to complete this on the "Your Voice" section of the website. Good, bad or indifferent we want to hear from you!

Right to Choose update

We are aware of the recent changes that are affecting some Right to Choose providers. We have shared the information below following the update we received from the Integrated Care Board (ICB) who oversee and run services on behalf of the NHS.

Update on Autism and ADHD Assessment Services – 06 January 2026

Autism and ADHD assessment services across North East and North Cumbria continue to experience exceptionally high levels of demand, resulting in longer waiting times. This reflects a national picture driven by increased awareness and changes in how people seek and access support.

To manage this pressure in a planned, fair and responsible way, the ICB has temporarily agreed revised activity plans with Right to Choose (RTC) providers for new autism and ADHD assessments. This approach is designed to protect existing services and ensure that people already in the system continue to receive safe and appropriate care. It is being applied consistently across all commissioned RTC providers.

It is important to be clear about what this means:

- New referrals are not being stopped or paused – referrals for autism and ADHD assessment can continue to be made.
- The revised activity plans apply only to Right to Choose providers and do not affect NHS Trust services.
- Children under the age of six are not impacted, as there are no RTC providers commissioned to assess this age group; these assessments continue through NHS Trusts.
- Providers will:
 - Continue to see anyone with a booked appointment
 - Prioritise and assess anyone considered clinically urgent
 - Manage assessments for people already waiting within the agreed activity levels

As a result, people referred during 2025/26 may experience longer initial waiting times with RTC providers, but all existing referrals will retain their original referral dates. Anyone who already has an appointment, is part way through assessment, awaiting treatment, or receiving ADHD medication will continue to receive care without disruption.

Alongside this approach and immediate actions, the ICB is working closely with NHS providers and partners to redesign autism and ADHD services so they better meet the needs of our population. This includes:

- Reviewing how assessments are prioritised
- Improving the information, guidance and support available while people wait
- Making communication clearer for patients, families, professionals and the public
- Ensuring services are prepared to respond to questions and concerns

While waiting times remain too long and unmet need is significant with understandable anxiety for patients and families, it is also important to recognise that more people than ever before are receiving autism and ADHD assessments, and ADHD medication where clinically indicated. In 2025/26, more individuals have been supported than in any previous year.

Our aim is to be fair, consistent and transparent, while ensuring services are sustainable. This will allow a revised and improved approach to assessments to be implemented as soon as it is safe and responsible to do so. We will review this position in April 2026. Questions or concerns

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact the NENC ICB Complaints Team.

Stay & Play Sessions

I am writing to inform you that Sunnyside Academy, Coulby Newham, Middlesbrough, will be starting to host a monthly Stay and Play session for d/Deaf and visually impaired children aged 0–5. These sessions will provide a welcoming and supportive environment for children and their parents/carers to play, explore, and connect with others, while also offering opportunities to share advice and support.

We would be grateful if you could share this information with all schools and relevant settings so they can pass it on to parents and carers who may be interested. Parents will be invited to contact Sunnyside directly to express their interest and to receive further details about session dates and arrangements.

We hope this provision will support early engagement and inclusion for young children with sensory needs and their families. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you require any further information.

Autism Course

Tees Valley Woman's Centre based in South Bank is offering an NCFE certificate in Understanding autism. We offered this course before Christmas through Middlesbrough College. For anyone who missed our sessions this might be another option for you.

Please see the poster for more details and how to book.

The poster is for a course titled 'UNDERSTANDING AUTISM' which is an 'NCFE CACHE Level 2 Certificate'. It is offered by the 'Tees Valley Women's Centre' and is an 'Online/distance learning course' that can be completed 'flexibly and complete at your own pace'. The poster lists several benefits of the course, including developing an understanding of autism, learning about person-centred approaches, exploring communication and social interaction, and gaining skills valuable across education, healthcare, and social care roles. It includes the contact number '01642 296166' for further information and enrolment. Logos for 'Atomix Educational Trust' and 'COMMUNITY FUND' are also present.

SEND Family Voice Events

Our weekly drop ins have now moved to a Tuesday. At our offices every Tuesday from 9.30am – 12pm, members of the team will be available to offer advice and support around any issues you are facing. They can also complete membership forms and Your Voice submissions. There will also be free refreshments available. At some of the events we will also have professionals who will be there such as SENDIASS or Short Breaks etc.

Our online evening coffee event will take place on the first Monday of each month at 7pm, we look forward to seeing you for chat. At this coffee event we can offer support and signposting and also help complete membership forms and Your Voice submissions.

Clare will continue to host the Adoptive, Foster and SGO coffee mornings at our offices once a month. Come along to find out the latest information in the adoptive, foster and SGO world. This is also a great opportunity to come along and connect with others who are in a similar position to yourself. Please see our events calendar for dates of these sessions.

We have now started a dads group once a month at our offices. A warm and welcoming environment for dads, step-dads, grandads and uncles can come along and attend. This is a great way for dads and grandads to receive some support and meet other dads who are in a similar situation. Please see our events calendar for dates of these sessions.

If you wish to receive our newsletter plus links to our training and workshop offers please ensure you have signed up to become a member. Our membership is free and your details are kept safe and secure and are not disclosed to any third party. Once you are registered you will be asked to confirm your email address. Once you have done this you will receive the latest copy of our newsletter together with a copy of The SEND Guide for Parents. The link and QR Code is below:

EarlyBird
(children aged under 5 years)

EarlyBird Plus
(children aged 4-9 years)

Working in partnership with parents and carers

The 6-week programme will run from September 2024 at Family Hubs in Redcar and Cleveland

Who is EarlyBird for?

The programme is designed for children who have a diagnosis or who are on the diagnostic pathway.

Each session will focus on a different area, including supporting interaction, understanding sensory differences, and developing play.

This will be an opportunity to understand more about autism and how best to support your child. It will also give you the chance to meet other parents and share experiences and strategies.

This is a 6-week programme and whilst we understand this a big commitment (as we would need families to attend every week) we hope that it will be extremely beneficial to everyone that attends.

There will be two places offered per family.

To attend this course families must reside in Redcar and Cleveland and will be required to purchase an EarlyBird Parent book at the cost of £15.

Preparing for Adulthood

'Preparation for adulthood' is a national framework that aims to ensure that all young people with special educational needs and disabilities have the support they need to ensure they achieve their full potential and live happy, healthy lives. Schools, colleges, health and social care services work together to help plan and prepare young people in four main areas;

- continuing education, training or getting a job
- living independently
- having friends and being part of the local community
- being as healthy as possible.

Short Breaks

Short Breaks are available for children and young people with special educational needs and or disabilities aged 0 - 18 years, some support may extend up to 25 years where there is an assessed need for the service to remain in place. Short Breaks support provides opportunities for parent carers to have a break from their caring responsibility while also providing fun and exciting opportunities for children and young people.
